

SENATE VOTES THEATER-HC WYATTOO, M TO FORTIFY CANAL

> Big Majority in Favor of Amending the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. State Department Gloomy.

> > [ST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "It is agreed, however, that none of the immedistely foregoing conditions and stipulations of this article shall apply to measures which the United States may find it necessary to take for securing, by its own forces, the defense of the United States and the maintenance of public order."

That is the text of the Davis amendment to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which the Senate adopted this afternoon by a vote of 65 to 18. Senator Bard of California voted against the amendment. Sepator Perkins of California voted for it. But there is no explaining the way the vote was cast, and there is no explaining how this amendment came to have such an overwhelming majority in the Senate. The whole force of the State Department was thrown against the amendment, yet most of the good administration Senators voted for it, while several Republican Senators who have not been friendly with the administration in the past voted against the amendment.

It was a mixed vote which nobody expected and which nobody can explain. The list of Senators voting against the amendment comes near enough to explanation. They were: Bard of California, Beveridge of Indiana, Frye of Maine, Lindsay of Kentucky, Platt of Connecticut, Rawlins of Utah, Morgan of Alabama, Money of Mississippi, Gallinger of New Hampshire, McCumber of North Dakota, Stewart of Nevada, Wellington of Maryland, Tillman of South Carolina, Harris of Kansas, McBride of Oregon, Wolcott of Colorado, Mason of Illinois, Platt of Connecticut.

The amendment, being adopted, is now part of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. There was only one vote taken today, but there are six or seven more amendments pending, which must be disposed of later. The most important of these coming amendments is one by Senator Foraker of Ohio, which strikes out Article III of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. That article provides that after the governments of Great Britain and the United States have ratified the treaty, all nations of the earth shall be asked to assent to its provisions, thus insuring the neutrality of the canal, by making the agreement to keep it neutral binding upon all nations. With the Davis amendment, which provides that the United States may protect its own interests within the canal, after its own fashion, with its own forces, adopted, if this Foraker amendment, saying to MACARTHUR MAY COME HOME all nations that they have nothing whatever to do with the canal should be adopted, there would be an exciting situation.

The State Department takes the view tonight that the Senate has killed the treaty by its action today These officials hold that England is not going to accept the amended treaty, and they also hold that even if the Foraker amendment should not be adopted, other nations, which are asked to assent to the treaty, will refuse to give their assent on account of the provisions of the Davis amendment. So the State Department feels, rightly or wrongly, that the treaty is a dead letter, even now.

Several Senators take directly the opposite view. They believe that England will accept the amended treaty, and a large number of Senators believe that England would go still further by abrogating the Clay-

It is understood that some Senators now propose provide that England shall abrogate the Claytonprovisions not amended by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, distasteful to the United States.

From all appearances the Senate is getting into a tangle from which it will be difficult to extricate itself in time for completing the canal and treaty legslation at this session of Congress, but if it should happen that no further amendments should be adopted or seriously discussed, and the treaty be ratified as already amended, it might be possible for the State Department to secure England's assent, and canal matters would then progress.

DRESIDENT'S VISIT.

Details are Being Worked Out Slowly, so as to Satisfy All.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES! WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.-

[Exclusive Dispatch.] The details for President McKinley's visit to California next spring are being slowly completed although they cannot be finished probably for some time yet. The trouble with making these arrangements is that the President wishes to time his visit so as to satisfy the people of Los Angeles and the people of San Francisco and the Union Iron Works, as well as the people of the entire State generally. It has been suggested here that there ought to be a California committee to make the arrangements complete. Some one today made the suggestion that Gov. Gage or the State Legislature appoint ing the entire State.

The success of the American policy is even more complete than expected. As an interesting proof of this, it is learned from the very best source, that the powers constituting the triple alliance, which, at the beginning, was strongly opposed to the American policy, have now requested their ministers to limit as far as possible all matters of formality in the peace negotiations, so that peace may be speedily concluded.

IST THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The latest advices from Peking from official sources is that England has signified a willingness to sign the agreement reached by the foreign ministers with a slight amendment, which is said to be in the nature of a mere change in form rather than an amendment of the scope of the agreement at any material point. It was the understanding that England was the only power that was holding back and as, according to the advices re ceived here, the slight changes made or proposed to be made by England, do not conflict with any of those held out here from the point of view of the state Department, there seems to be no substantial obstacle to an almost immediate closure of the negotiations concerning the preliminary agreement. Minister Conger's latest advices to see State Department indicated very early that the German Minister at eking, Mumm Von Schwarzenstein, was living up to the spirit of the promise of the German government to abate its demands for the imposition of the

During today's session of the Reichstag, the last before the Christmas holidays, Dr. Stoecker, formerly court chaplain, remarked with reference to the situation in China that he had received private letters asserting that the reason the Empress Dowager hates Emperor Kwang Hou is that the latter has actually become a Christian, having been converted by the British and American missionary books that came under his eye.

At the close of the session Dr. Stoecker was interviewed by a representative of the Associated Press, to whom he gave a number of corroborative details. His informant is supposed to have been Count Von Waldersee, with whom Dr. Stoecker is on term of intimate friendship,

LOUISVILLE (Ky.,) Dec. 13.—The conservative element in the Federation of Labor was dominant throughout tooperative commonwealth and govern-ment ownership and control of all means of production and distribution. For both of them much more moder-ate substitutes were adopted after long debate.

Throughout the debate the proponents of the resolution claimed socialism as the only solution of the industrial problems; trade unionism, they said, would last as long as the competitive system prevails, but the competitive system should be done away with and the cooperative commonwealth should take its place.

President Gompers and his colleagues, who opposed the resolutions, took the ground that the federation should not be committed to any political party, and that the government ownership proposition is at this time an impracticable theory, with no definite plan for development into a working system.

of the States where an eight-hour law does not prevail.

A sharp debate arose over the consideration of a resolution denouncing a hat factory of Fall River, Mass., for the alleged substitution of foreign workmen to do the work of men in the manufacture of hats. The resolution further declared that the United States government has for the past three years placed all orders for hats with the Fall River factory, and registered a protest against the further placing of army orders for hats with any non-union concern. The resolution was adopted.

mended to the convention as follows:

"Resolved, that this twentieth convention of the American Federation of Labor reaffirms its position on the trust question, by urging to unorganized working people to organize in their respective trades as the best means of resisting the encroachment of trusts and monopolies. And we also renew the recommendation that trade workingmen generally study the devolopment of trusts and monopolies."

Hayes took the floor to protest signings the change in his resolution. He was replied to by Treasurer Duncan, who said the committee had deemed a moderate resolution along oractical lines much wiser than a radical fulmination against trusts. Hayes's position was condemned by a number of delegates as tending to transform the Federation of Labor into a political organization.

United Mine Workers, resented a statement made by Hayes to the effect that if the mine workers would strike again they could secure a still greater increase of their wages.

"There has not been one important step taken by the mine workers," said Mitchell, "that has not been bitterly opposed by the Socialist Labor party of Pennsylvania. Today our people earn as good wages as any of the crafts; during the past twenty years we have increased our wages 40 per cent., and this has been done through the efforts of trade unionism. If the believers in socialism can point to a practical solution of the industrial problem, I am not so blased as not to be ready to join them."

Upon a roll call, the resolution as adonted by a large majority.
The convention adopted a resolution favoring Congressional legislation for the pensioning of civil service employes, who are disabled in the service of the government.

War and China Crisis in Intro ducing Churchill.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1 NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Winston Spencer Churchill, M.P., war correspondent, gave his lecture on the South African war here last evening. He was introduced by Mark Twain, who began by saying that, although a friend of his, he did not agree with Churchill as to the righteousness of the South African war. He then said that he had for years preached Anglo-American amity. He had helped the alliance impartial compliments. He added: "I have shown how America has thrown her doors wide open to all those that suffer, and are oppressed—and who can put up $50 admission—except the Chinese. We draw the line there.

"And how unselfiehly England has wrought for the open door for all in China, and how openly and how plously America has stood for that open door in all cases where it was not her own. And how generous England has been and America has been in not urging China to pay fanoy rates for extinguished missionaries, like Germany does, but is willing to take produce from them—tea and firecrackers and other things—why, Germany has made things so expensive that China cannot afford German missionaries any more, but has got to wait until she is better fixed financially. And how simply and sorrowfully and shamefacedly England and America stood at Port Arthur weeping, while France and Germany helped hold Japan and Russia robbed her."

Count: Coatin is credited with being one of the greatest living interpreters of the music of Beethoven and Mozart. Those favoring him with their presence will not only enjoy a rare musical treat, but will aid a good cause as well.

Count Contin received his early musical education from his mother, who was a "upil of Beethoven, and one of the greatest violinists of her time. His grandfather, who was also a musician of note, was the intimate friend of Beethoven, Mozart and Haydn, so that the count was literally reared in an atmosphere of music. He has in his possession a rare old Guanorius violin, which was a gift from Mozart to his grandfather, from whom it descended to his mother, and then to him, and is now his most priceless heirloom.

The robber got on the train, it is supposed, at some point above the city, and after passing Kenner, the last stop before the train arrives in New Orleans, ha climbed over to the engine and covered the engineer and fireman, and brought the train to a standstill. When the conductor came forward to see what jihe trouble was, he was shot by the robber R. E. Goldsby, one of the railway mail clerks, stuck his head out of the door and was ordered to jump down, which he did. Then the robber led the engineer, fireman and Goldsby toward the express car, and made one of them blow the side out with a stick of dynamite, which he supplied. This train carries no money and has no safe. The robber then made for the mail tar, and there discovered Parker, who had hidden the registered pouches. Today's inning of the prosecution was in the nature of a disaster to Hoff. All through the morning session the accused sat in the chair atthe barrister's table and strained every gerve as hope after hope was dashed to the ground and the prosecution drew its net tighter about him. As the last witness loft the stand, Hoff, pale, emacdated, and spent, sank back in his chair and riveted his eyes on his clasped hands. His attorney stooped over him. PEONS PASS THROUGH CITY EN ROUTE TO HAWAIL

Report That Twenty-five of the Party Escaped-No Signs of Ill Treatment of Emigrants in Evidence-Dissatis faction Caused by Mexicans.

The party of Porto Rican peons en route from their native island to Hawaii to labor on the sugar plantations, about whom there has been so much commotion since they started on their long journey, passed through this city yesterday afternoon en route to San Francisco, whence they are to sail for their final destination today or tomorrow.

yesterday afternoon en route to San Francisco, whence they are to sail for their final destination today or tomorrow.

The three cars in which the emigrants were quartered were attached to a freight train arriving from the East at 1:30 o'clock. They were side-tracked at River Station till 2:20 o'clock, when they resumed their journey, the cars on the trip north being attached to the regular passenger train.

The report reached the city yesterday from Pomona that twenty-five of the emigrants escaped from the train yesterday morning between that city and San Bernardine, and that the cars were side tracked at Pomona while an engine took the back track to pick up the fugitives and return them to the train. This report lacked confirmation and there was no evidence of a shortage in the party when the train reached this city.

They were as a whole a forbidding-looking lot, but no worse in general sppearance than the average Mexican spon. There was seeminely nothing in their condition or surroundings to warrant the great ado that had been made about them. If they were captives on their way to slavery, their apparent unconcern as to their fate or destination certainly belied the facts.

Several of the party were interviewed through a Spanish interpreter, and the worst they said as to the manner in whir, they were induced to leave their native land was that they were assured that they would find in Hawaii people speaking their own language, which would make them feel at home there, but having since learned that they would make them feel at home there, but having since learned that they had so out on their long journey. Some of them thought they would prefer to remain in the United States, where there were Spanish-speaking people. Others expressed a desire to return to Porto Rico, but the majority appeared to be entirely indifferent 'as 'to their fate.

The was nothing in the condition or statements of the emigrants that

There was nothing in the condition or statements of the emigrants that seemed to warrant interference on the part of the local or Federal authorities so they prudently kept hands off. Unless some attempt will be made at San Fyancisco to interrupt their progress they will be hurried from the cars aboard the steamer for the last stage of their journey to exile from which none of them will probably ever return.

There seems to be little doubt that a good deal of the dissensifaction expressed by the emigrants was due to conversations had with Mexicans in the towns through which they passed. The free and easy life which the Mexicans scattered throughout Texas, New Mexico, Arisona and Southern California seemed to lead, and the evidences of plenty and prosperity which they witnessed on every hand appealed to their sluggish natures and awaken.d in them a desire to remain in this smiling land of plenty instead of continuing their long and wearisome pilgrimage to a land of which they could form no adequate conception. It is not to be wondered, therefore, that guards had to accompany the train to prevent them from running away.

A feature of these nocturnal attacks is that they are very often not accompanied by robbery, but are perpetrated apparently by bloodthirsty criminals, frequently boys in their teens. Hanna to discisse any such imputation.

Taking up the bill, Senator Hanna said the pending measure was believed to be the most practical explanation with the could be enacted upon the subject. He then sketched rapidly the trise of the shipping industry of the Great Lakes. He had, he said, been with that industry for nearly forty years, and had seen it grow from a comparatively insignificant beginning to its present condition of unparalleled greatness. He recalled the time, nearly a third of a century ago, when the ship Escanaba carried 600 tons of fron ore from Escanaba to Cleveland. Today, he said, there were steamers on the Great Lakes which were carrying 6000 gross tons in one cargo. He maintained that this great shipping industry on the Lakes had been fostered and protected by salutary and wise navigation laws. To the salvantage of these laws was added the liberal appropriations made by Congress for the improvement of the harbors of the Great Lakes. Senator Hanna maintained that in or-

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—HOUSE—When the House met today, it adopted a resolution on motion of Mr. Payne of New York, the floor leader of the majority, for a holiday recess from Friday, December 21, to Thursday, January 3

Reversue Reduction Bill was then resumed.

Representative McCleilan of New York, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, was the first speaker today. He regretted that the present measure did not reform the whole scheme of internal taxation. Our present system, he said, was the outgrowth of the Cvil War. He argued that there should be a balance in the budget. There was no necessity for a surplus. With a scientific system of taxation the rates could be lowered or raised to very nearly meet the appropriations. A correct scheme of taxation would include a progressive legacy tax and a progressive excise tax upon certain occupations, and an indirect tax on distilled spirits, beer and tobacco, at a rate somewhat below the maximum revenue-raising point.

Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio defended the bill, and when questioned about the old story that ex-Secretary of the Treasury Foster was preparing to issue bonds just before the Cleveland administration came into power, said that the bonds were ordered prepared after consultation with Sensitor, afterwards Secretary, Cariisle. Subsequetly Carlisle changed his mind, and the preparations were discontinued.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Champion Jim Jeffries says he will make one more effort to get Bob Fitzsimmons to fight him before signs articles to clash with either Gus Ruhlin or Tom Sharkey at Cincinnati in February, next year. Jeffries is ready to give the Cornishman until next Tuesday in order to sign. The big boller-maker, who is in town today, issued the following statement about and his lost title back, if he can summon up enough courage to face the drubbing that I am willing to bet I can give him if we meet again. I now give him a last chance, and will wait until Tuesday for him to accept. If he falls to do so, I shall match myself with Ruhlin or Sharkey, and shall in future pay no attention to Fitzsimmons, should he at a future date ask for the chance that I now stand ready to give him."

On Food After Being Given Up

On Feed After Being Given Up.

Lack of knowledge regarding the kind of food to give people, particularly invalids, frequently causes much distress, whereas when one knows exactly the kind of food to give to quickly rebuild the brain and nerve centers that knowledge can be made use of.

A young Chicago woman says: "Other instances of the wonderful qualities possessed by Grape-Nuts food are shown in my grandmother's and mother's cases. Grandmother's entire left side became totally paralyzed from a ruptured capillary of the brain. The doctor said it would be impossible for her to live a week. She could not take ordinary food and we put her on Grape-Nuts, in an effort to do all for her we could.

"To the astonishment of the doctor and the delight of all of us, she slowly railled and recovered. It was promounced the first case of the kind on record. The doctor said nothing could have produced this result but food.

"We had been led to use Grape-Nuts because of the effect on mother. She had been troubled with a weak stomach all her life, and the last few years been gradually losing weight and strength. She had tried everything, almost, that had been recommended by good authority, and until she used Grape-Nuts food, nothing seemed to do her any good. Since taking up Grape-Nuts she has been constantly improving until now she is Since taking up Grape-Nuts she has bee max in Books.

Bargain prices on standard works—such as only we dare make. Our books are sold cheap, not made cheap. We haven't the time or disposition to stop and deal with trashy written, trashy made books. When we sell you a book, we expect to sell you another. We want you to get so much more than your money's worth, you'll come back. That accounts for these apparently foolish prices. We've chosen Christmas time as the most effective time of the year to make an impression. While others are harvesting their profits, we are just sowing the seeds of ours.

DSWELL & NOVES,

a powerful factor in the regeneration of Italian public spirit. The definiteness of his programme clarified public opinion, and inspired men of conservative instincts who were repelled by his preaching of insurrections to propose more practical methods, and a more attainable goal.

The exiled priest Gioberti (1843) profoundly stirred the hearts of his countrymen by his glowing picture of what a united and progressive Italy could do for humanity. He advocated a federal union under the Pope as president and arbitrator. Another leader of this party of reform as contrasted with the party of revolution, the more practical Balbo, in his "Hopes of Italy" (1844) accepted confederation as the solution of the problem of union, but pointed out with clearness that the greatest obstacle to its attainment was the presence of Austria. It was hopeless to try to expel Austria by force, and unwise to seek outside help to do it, but the break-up of the Turkish empire was only a question of time, and when that came they should unite to support Austria's expansion in that quarter and in return she might relinquish Lombardy and Venetia. Two years later came d'Aseglio's ringing appeal for internal reforms, as the necessary preparation for independence.

The irreconcilable antagonism between the programmes of the existing governments, the other aiming at a federal union of these governments minus Austria, insured the failure of the Italian cause in the great year of revolutions (1849.)

At first sight the Italy of 1850 was merely the restoration of the Italy of 1815, and it seemed as if no progress had been made in thirty-five years, but a closer observation revealed a striking exception to the uniformity of despotism prevailing after 1815. In the kingdom of Sardina under Victor Emmanuel despotism was not restored, and the young King in the recent crisis had shown himself in warm sympathy with Italian aspirations. The progressive spirit in Piedmont was reinforced by the presence of many political refugees from the other states. It was the resources of the kingdom by stimulating agriculture, building railroads and negotiating commercial treaties. Yet, as Sardinia would not be strongenough unaided to expel Austria, suitable alliances must be made, and the first condition of securing them would be to make the alliance of Sardinia worth having.

Given Away in Prizes by The Times.

The largest premium offer ever made by any newspaper on the Pacific Coast.

The Times announces a Prize Contest, taking effect January I, and covering a period of six months, the like of which has never been seen in the West.

The amount named above will be divided into 500 prizes. The method of distributing the prizes, the names and amount of the prizes, and other details of the competition will be fully explained in future announcements.

Watch the columns of The Times for the rules and regulations which will govern the contest from start to finish. An explanatory article on page 4, Part II, sets forth more fully our reasons for making the above startling offer.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

This contest will afford the women of Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico an opportunity to win handsome prizes, either in money, merchandise or real estate. Boys and girls under 16 years of age will also be eligible as contest ants for the prizes. Every eligible person who brings in even a very small number of new subscriptions will receive something in the form of a prize.

been among the briskest on the row. Andrews & Son, and the Bentz-Jayins Company have clever conceits with the bleycle as the main feature. The McNeil Company has an attractive stand, draped with Navajo blankets and filled with Christmas goods and stationery. Benham's "Curlo" is also "long" on Indian blankets and baskets, and is an attractive spot for the newcomer. Somewhat on the same order is the booth of the McDougali-Gage Company, though its specialty is buckskin and burnt-leather goods.

On East Washington streef one of the largest booths, and one that approximates closely to the beauty of that of the prize winner, is one erected and decorated by Golwäter & Bro., dealers in dry goods. Pratt, Gilbert & Co. have a street exhibit of carriages, curtained with bunting, and stoves form the motif for the desplay of the J. B. Long Hardware Company. Candy factories have been put in operation on a large scale by Charles Donofrio and Hanna & Munson. The ladies of the Christian Church have one of the most tasty displays in their large, alitalfa-covered lunch booth. The ladies of the Methodist Church have a similar stand a few blocks distant. Elvey & Huwett and Ben Bear, druggists, are represented be, yond the curb line, as are also the Arisona Bakery. C. H. Davidson, the Valley Creamery and E. W. Spears. This list is not complete, and embraces only the most prominent of the booths. Many merchants purchased space, but preferred to leave it open and to better decorate their show windows and frontages. Much of the decoration has been done by Phil S. Schurman of Los Angeles, who has had large experience in the Angel City flestas.

He said he had lost his wife and child, and his home. Before he had a chance to make any more confessions of criminal carelessness, the court handed him down his sentence.

He has the appearance of a patriarch, with a long white beard. His faded old coat is buttoned up tight about the throat, and he has a general air of pathos.

It is said that he pours carbolic acid on his legs to give them the appearance of being covered with running sores. He also makes a strike for sympathy by representing himself to be a Mason or an Odd Fellow. As it would be straining a point to call himself a Native Son, he says that he is the father of one. The court was inclined to send him to the poor farm, but was informed that the old fellow won't stay there.

SPECIAL AGENT EUTCHIN TALKE OF THE INDUSTRY.

Gives Particulars of the Im Output—Interesting Facts on Sal-mon's Habits and the Service in Which the Officer is Engaged.

SALMON'S DEATH MARCH.

"There is a notable peculiarity in the habits of the salmon that is not generally known," said Mr. Kutchin, "and indeed, unknown to many persons who know something of ichthyology. Salmon are all spawned in the lakes at the head of the fresh-water streams. The little fish at once make their way down to deep water and there grow to maturity. Having reached the proper age, they begin their death march to the spawning grounds, for a salmon never spawns but once, and in that effort gives up its life.

"They never stop until the lake is reached, no matter how far that may be, They will scale a waterfall that is slmost perpendicular, in an almost incredible way. They turn red and then black, their fiesh becomes soft and almost disintegrated, they arrive at their destination with their noses skinned, their bodies torn and bruised, and their condition is horrible to look upon, when they are what is termed "ripe, they are practically rotten, the spawn is deposited and the pid fish dies.

LIKES THE JOB.

"Yes, I like the service in which I am SALMON'S DEATH MARCH.

"Yes, I like the service in which I am engaged, and yet when on a cruise to Alaska I have rarely felt well," said Francisco tonight, where business will detain me for ten days, and I will then return and spend the bolidays at San Diego, where I have property interests. While there I will prepare my reports for the season, which are very volumni-nous, and will then report at Washing-ton."

BRUSSELS, Dec. 13.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The international conference for the protection of industrial property, at which United States Assistant Patent Commissioner Chamberjain and Minister Townsend were the American representatives, has adopted the following resolutions:

"First—The period of exclusive rights, previously fixed at six months, for patents and three months for industrial designs, models and trade-marks, is extended to a year for the first named and four months for the second named. "Becond—Countries signing the convention enjoy reciprocally the protection accorded by each country to its own citizens against unfair competition."

"Third—Patents cannot lapse because they are not put in circulation, except after a minimum delay of three years, dating from the first application in countries where the patent is allowed and in cases in which the owners of the patent do not justify causes of inaction."

Christmas Handkerchief Carn

Christmas handkerchiefs were never so pretty and dainty and cheap as they are this year. You can make a dollar go further in gift giving by selecting handker-chiefs from the Coulter stock than you can in any other way. For months we have been preparing for a big Christmas business on handkerchiefs. The long arms of the store have reached out to Ireland, Scotland and Germany for linens; to China and India and Japan for silk. There is nothing so new you cannot find it here. There is nothing so cheap in the way of hand-kerchiefs that you cannot find better value at Coulter's.

BOSTON, Dea 13.—[Exchusive Dispatch.] The sales of California citrus fruit the past week consisted of eight and one-half carloads of Semons; seven care of navels and three care of seed-lings. The weathers has been dry and favorable, but prices, on California navels and lemons have been very unsatisfactory. Seedlings have sold well, and these have been about the only well-colored fruit offered. Offerings of navels have been pale, green and not very desirable. Some very good lemons have been offered, but prices have been save been offered, but prices have been save been offered, but prices have been save been offered, but prices have been pply of both foreign and California stock; California lemons nave the preference in this market at present, and are selling a trifle higher than Sicily stock. Foreign lemons are improving in quality, and some very good stock was offered this week. Large quantities of Floridas are coming into this market, as well as heavy shipments of Jamaicas. This has taken the edge off the price of the California navels. As stock improves the demand will increase. The prospects are not very flattering for large-sized navels. All cars offered so far contain heavy percentage of large-sized. The sales the past week were as follows: Extra fancy navels, large, 224; regulars, 234; fancy anvels, large, averaged 1.87; regulars, 2.71; half-boxes, 1.15; choice navels, large, 201; regulars, 2.29; small, 2.55; choice seedlings, regulars, 2.61; small, 2.55; fancy seedlings, regulars, 2.61; extra fancy lemons, 300s, averaged 1.83; fancy 30s, averaged 2.46; 36os, 2.26; ohoice lemons, 20s, 1.95; 36os, 1.30; Messina lemons, 2.15; Falermo, 1.78; Florida oranges, 2.49. GERMAN FINANCIAL.

GERMAN FINANCES. The London Statist says: "Germany has been passing through a crisis for fully two years, and yet there has been no serious failure in any department of business. The fact boars eloquent testimony to the capacity of the business community in Germany, to the skill of the banks, and to the determination with which a halt was called when serious danger came to be apprehended. The drag was put oa, in short, before the time for an inevitable breakdown had come. There is one department, however, which has not been conducted as well as the others. Two or three mortgage banks have been badly managed, have engaged in risky business, and have suffered losses. An inquiry into their condition is being officially conducted. The matter is only of moment to the shareholders, debenture holders, and persons who were accustomed to get accommodation from these mortgage banks. The Stock Exchange will be little effected, and the general course of business even less. As confidence is reviving, trade is improving. Most of the industries are again beginning to do better than for some months past, with the exception, however, of the iron industry, which is undoubtedly depressed. There is ever-production, new orders are scance, and the outlook is not promising. On the other hand, it is hoped that the greater activity in the United States will react upon Germany, and that the iron industry will soon improve once, more."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

TIMBER IN THE PHILIPPINES.
The Division of Customs and Insular Affairs of the War Department has made nublic as the control of the control of truth of this sweeping generalization. Americans, therefore, may well be consent with the progress they have rade in the last decade. These figures afford them ample reason for pride and sublication. The only great power of the present day which can vie with them in numbers is Russin, and in wearth, in energy, in adaptability, in education and in that cunning industrial skill which is the foundation of material prosperity they far outstrip the subjects of the Cahr.

Citrus-fruit Shipments.

There were shipped from Southern California points on Wednesday nine carlonds of lemons and 143 of oranges, making for the season, November 1 to date, 183 carlcads of lemons and 1855 of oranges, a total or all citrus fruits of 1867 carlonds. Adding shipments to Pauine Coast points, the gross total for the season is 1822 carlonds.

PRETTY AND WILD.

PHOENIX (Ariz.,) Dec. 14.—(Exciusive Dispatch.) Tonight the city is in the maddening whirl of the carnival masquerade. Today was devoted to the children and to driving shows. The night is the wildest time of the week; the day was filled with the pretitest features of the carnival.

The morning programme was wholly managed by committees of ladies, at their head Mrs. W. O. O'Neill, Mrs. Bury, Miss Ellis and Miss Kelly.

LITTLE ONES DISPLAY.

LITTLE ONES DISPLAY.

The children's parade, fully half a mile in length, was not made up of the ranks of school children, but was a succession of beautiful features, unique and delightful. Pony carriages formed the main division, under the guidance of Mmes. Frazier, Foster and Thibodo and Miss Kendrick. The committee had decorated the most beautiful of the carts, four being respectively in white, green, red and yellow. Each was filled with children dressed to match. The kindergarten of the Phoenix Indian School was in svidence with a guigeously-decorated miniature wagon drawn by ten little Indian seebuds of girls.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

NOW PEREGRINATING. d

A QUIET SESSION.

SURFEIT OF CLERICAL WORK.

The cierks at the City Hall have had "that tired feeling" this week. The Mayor's clerk and the City Clerk's steno-rapher and copyist have worn pasticularly long faces. The reason for these against despressions is to be found in the exceptional large number of demands that have been ground through the red-tape mill this week. It is nothing unusual to have several hundred demands presented during a week but the Council last Monday started more than a thousand—1230 is the exact number—over the road.

It is very likely that few of the taxnayers who, find so much fault about idds deputies know about the work involved in properly certifying to demands.

All bills against the city or any department and all salary claims, and, in face, all bills of whatever nature, are are made out, which so to the Supply Committee of the Council, and through much red tape, but that is entirely preliminary to the demand.

Demands are first prepared on official blanks, furnished for the purpose, to which the bill is attached. These are filed with the clerk, who presents them to the Council when they are read and referred to the Finance Committee. In a blank for the purpose, the members of the Finance Committee stamp their approval, and the demand sous to the Council again. The Council then passes the demand, if it is regular, and the clerical work begins. On the face of the demand is written the mame of the payee, and the amount for which it is drawn. Just below is a like upon which must be stamped the date upon which the demand was first before the Council. The Clerk's stenographer has to fill in this date. Then the date when the demand was finally passed, and the sum for which it was approved by the Council must be inserted, and the Clerk's number stamped on it. A full list of every demand, including the name of the payee, for what purpose drawn, and the amount for which it was finally approved, is then taken off on the typewriter, and an entry of each demand is inserted by the copyist in the large volumes in which the minutes of the Council are kept. When the case was called it was almost immediately dismissed by stipulation, and judgment for $75 was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. It was a record case for short time, and extraordinary from the fact that damage suits usually drag along for months, if not years.

[AT THE COURTHOUSE.] L'OOTPAD DAVIS AGAIN ON TRIAL FOR ROBBERY.

White Declares That Davis Informe Him That He and Brown Had also Been Waylaid on the Identical Night White Was Robbed. PARBER'S SUIT.

APTER HIS LANDLORD.

Pedro De Grasia, a barber, who once had a shop at No. 515 North Main street, considers himself a badly injured man and in an endeavor to heat his wounds has sued E. Castellano for 3299 in the Township Court. Pedro, who is evidently no five-spot, asserts that he rented rooms of Castellano for a barber shop at No. 515 North Main street, in November, 1259. He paid his 312 rent every month until October 3, 1900, when his landlord refused to take any more rent. On November 12, however, during Pedro's absence, he avers, Castellano entered the place and like a buil in a china shop and "with great force" tossed up the interior in bad shape, breaking 350 worth of stuff and losing or appropriating a set of books called "Rottlilo Benincasa," valued at 2500. Pedro says he has not been able to do any business since the catastrophe.

Huh, huh! Tom White was not the only colored man robbed by footpads in this city on the night of August is, 1900; but Varney Davis was also way-laid and divested of his watch and chain and some money. This was the mild and heretofore unreported sensation that was sprung yesterday during the first day's session of the second trial of Varney Davis for highway robbery. The first trial of Davis for assisting in the hold-up of White resulted in a hung jury and his second trial has now commenced. It had been set for Thursday, but at that time it was found there were no jurors on hand, and a special venire of thirty was summoned. A jury of twelve was soon secured, out of the first twenty examined, and the case went on trial at II o'clock in the morning.

of which he was later robbed. Shortly after the four young men boarded an out-going San Pedro street car and rode to the power house, where it tied up, and the men good-by and started inquiries of Attorney Davis. "I walked

Besex, where I was robbed by Davis, Brown and Bolden.

"How did they do it?" asked the atterney.

"Well, Davis put his right arm around my neck from behind, Bolden held my legs and Brown went through my pockets. One of them said, T've got it, and them they all left, taking my hat with them."

"When did you see the men again?"

"On Friday of the following week, when I met them at Pirst and Los Anseles streets. After a short conversation with Davis he told me he had been held up that night he saw me and described the same method used on me parties and he had been robbed of 310 and 22 awatch, and Brown had also been robbed."

"At that time did you know Davis had robbed you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Were you advised not to ask him if he had robbed you?"

"Yes, sir."

"An objection to this question was sustained by the court, but a motion to strike out the testimony where Davis had stated he had been held up and robbed, was denied.

This second robbery was the new feature of the case that had not been bought out at either the trial of Brown or the first trial of Davis. Attorney Davis, for the defense, tried in vain to have it stricken out, but the court wouldn't sustain the effort und the double-header hold-up story went to the fury.

The only other witness on the reand during the afternoon was R. P. Hasking dice and drinking in his place on the night of the alleged hold-up. The case will go on today.

AMAZING INTRICACIES OF THE TEST CASES. HORSE THIEF'S SENTENCE.

R. B. Emert, a taffy-haired boy of nineteen years, took a buggy ride in this city the day following Thanksgiving and it turned out to be the most startling act of his young life. The ride itself was unimportant, but before starting Mr. Emert neglected the customary proceeding of hiring his horse and buggy, or even asking the loan of the ris. the rig. For this mistake he is now on his way to Folsom prison, where he will have five years to ponder over his will have five years to ponder over his ride.

Dr. R. C. Kirkpatrick hitched his horse and buggy near his office on November 36, and after he had entered his office, Emert unhitched the horse, got in the buggy and drove away. When explaining the matter to Judge Smith yesterday Emert said he was drunk and did not knew where he was.

"Do you sort of gobble up everything you see when you are drunk?" asked the court. Emert stoutly dealed that he was a gobbler of any kind.

"Well," continued the court, "you are charged with the crime of stealing a horse and buggy in broad daylight. It is strange that a young man of your age should do a thing like this. It is astonishing, I must say."

It certainly was, but it was not in the same class with the astonishment the court put Emert "up against," for in a few off-hand, matter-of-fact words he sentenced the young man to serve five years at Folsom.

Previous to this case of mutual astonishment Emert had waived arraignment and the ministering offices of an attorney and pleaded guilty, expecting a light sentence.

One of the crucial moments of the trial took place while Hill was on the witness stand. He and Allender were dinging remarks about cubic centimeters at each other. One of the jurors in siarm called out for mercy.

"Your Honor," he said, "I don't know what one of these centimeters is, I spose it must be some of that new business, but I don't know what.

"Explain what a centimeter is," said Mr. Allender to Mr. Hill, in an off-hand "after-you-sir" sort of a tone.

"I don't know," said Hill, candidly. And the subject was hastily shifted.

Mr. Francisco said there was no truth in the saying that it requires no artist to take a picture with a camera. On the contrary, he declared, the field for artistic work in photography was simply endless. There were opportunities to get pictures with the camera that would be lost forever if it were not for the art of the photographer. The lecturer then gave a number of practical suggestions for the benefit of amateur photographers in the selection of subjects for the camera, and in regard to securing the best effects in posing, perspective, lights, shadows, proportion, atmosphere, etc. Things to be avoided, he said, were straight lines clear across a picture, parallel lines and sharp angles.

The lecture was brought to a close by the reading of an extract from a paper read before the Sunset Club some time ago, by Mr. Francisco, giving an interesting description of a students' tramp through the country in Germany.

ler, at one time chief of Ordnance of the army.

In August, 1895, Miss Flagler was the victim of a most unhappy occurrence. She shot a negro boy, Ernest Green, employed in one of the departments, killing him instantly. Green had been breaking the branches of pear trees in the grounds surrounding the Flagler residence in Washington. Miss Flagler warned the lad to desist, but he did not heed her, whereupon she fired a revolver, simply with the intention, her friends say, of frightening him away.

Miss Flagler surrendered herself immediately to the Chief of Police, and was exonerated by the Coroner's jury. She was subsequently indicted and tried the following February. She was convicted of involuntary mansiaughter and sentenced to three hours' imprisonment and $500 fine. This sentence was carried out. She has since then choice narrows down to two articles. The shopper is unable to decide between a drawn-work handkerchief and a Wedgwood pitcher, and takes a walk around a block to consider the matter. Just as she settles upon the handkerchief, her eye falls upon a window full of books. Nothing makes a nicer present than a late book. Queer she hadn't thought of that before. So she goes in directly and buys a copy of 'Eleanor,' and takes the next car homeward. On the way doubts arise. Possibly the eastern friend has read 'Eleanor.' Very like she has read 'Eleanor.' Of course she has read it 'Eleanor.' Goes into the family bookcase, which needed a copy, anyway.

The Fay Fruit Company shipped a carload of oranges East today—the last of the holiday fruit from Fuller-ton. About thirty-four carloads of new-crop oranges have been shipped this season. The crop of Fulierton and Placentia is estimated at 675 carloads. Orange orebards are se heavily laden, with fruit that much propping of the trees is necessary in the Placentia dis-trict.

TWO RANCHERS HAVE A ROW.

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 14.—[Regular Correspondence.] J. W. Curtis and C. W. Meyers, two Cajon ranchers, became involved in a row Wednesday night on Third street. Curtis threw a bottle of whisky at Meyers's head. It missed its mark, after which Meyers declares Curtis drew his gun and fired several shots at him. The testimony on this point was somewhat hazy, when Curtis was brought before Justice Thomas yesterday. The case was dismissed.

PAINE'S CELERY CO

Restores Health Cures Indigestion, Nerve Exhaustion, Purifies the Blood.

"Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that ever did me good. I have worked in the machine shop's since I was ten years old, and I was troubled with nervousness and indigestion.

My whole system was weakened; my digestion was very bad; I had palpitation of the heart, attacks of dizziness when getting up in the morning, and was in a generally run-down state. Paine's Celery Compound makes me well, and I now use it to purify my blood and keep me healthy." J. M. OLSON, ELKHORN, WIS.

You Can be Well

Do you go home from work feeling exhausted, with a tired head and an aching back? Do you wake up in the morning with dizziness, poor appetite, and nerves unstrung? Paine's Celery Compound will restore your health, give you nerve force, strength to work, and purify your blood.
